1. 2012 Water Quality Monitoring Summary:

- SWCD staff installed automated stage (depth) monitoring equipment at the Chub Creek Permanent Monitoring Station.
- Collected monthly grab samples from the Chub Creek Permanent Monitoring Station.
- Weather Station in Welch, MN recorded nearly 12” of rain over the period from 6/14/12-6/21/12.
- Flooding conditions dominated water quality results (many parameters exceeding state standards) for the majority of June.
- Flow conditions at the Chub Creek Permanent Monitoring Station far exceeded historical results.

2. Historical Flow Monitoring Results in Randolph:
3. North Cannon River Watershed June Flooding Images:

Washed out road in Miesville Park Reserve

Miesville Park Reserve bottoms

260th St. at Hwy 20.

280th St. west of Miesville Park Reserve

Field erosion in Trout Brook Sub-watershed

Failed “un-engineered” landowner project, Trout Brook Sub-watershed